In 2016, the Trust campaigned for the completion of major repairs to the fabric of Bury St Edmunds' outstanding Victorian station, one of the top 60 of its kind.

In 2013, in furtherance of its principal charitable object of conserving the architectural heritage of Bury St Edmunds, in conjunction with the West Suffolk College, the Trust established an

Introductory Course in Historic Building Conservation

The annual course, available free to the College students, is held one day a week for a period of about 8 weeks. It includes site visits, in addition to lectures. The Scholars' programme takes place during the summer vacation and includes single day, and in some cases longer, visits to selected craftspersons and/or contractors involving a number of building materials and, if possible working on selected conservation building projects.
